U. F. A. Meeting

Strathmore U. F. A. held another interesting meeting at the Kingsward Hotel on Saturday, July 29th. President H. W. Wathen in the chair, a great deal of business was transacted. This local is improving rapidly and if the good work continues we will have a local that can be proud of. Among the chief discussions at the meeting was the road question. There seems to be a mix-up somewhere. Mr. Harry Jones, our local Councillor, reported at the meeting that the council has not after the government's severance of the road, been able to get the road fixed up, but till now nothing has been done about it. Mr. Jones then read a letter which the Council has received from the Minister at Edmonton, dated July 18th, saying that he had sent an Engineer to Strathmore to look after the local details and do the necessary work, and fully expected that before the letter would reach Strathmore a crew would be working at the road. But as nothing has been done to improve the road yet, it was understood at the meeting that the citizens of Strathmore are signing a petition which they intend to send direct to the Minister at Edmonton. July—the month of oppressive heat, red hot days and sultry nights—is extremely hard on little babies. A Harmless Criticism

On Tending Diligently to One's Own Business

An English visitor to the Ontario and a Winnipeg audience that Canadians seem narrow-minded. What he apparently means by it is that they concentrate their attention on the things of personal, practical and immediate importance to themselves. It is not a bad fault. There are some reasons to think that England might be happier and more prosperous if its government spent less time and energy trying to reconstruct Russia and gave some serious thought to the re-establishment of British industry and trade. Tending diligently to one's own business may be "narrow," but it makes for success, independence and contentment.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Farming Activities to be Illustrated on Movie Screen

Farming activities in Alberta are about to be illustrated on the movie screen. The province is to be pictured and filmed from a variety of viewpoints, for the information of its own people and the attraction of people's interest in other countries. The agricultural and publicity departments of the Provincial Government are doing the production work, which is now getting under way.

All phases of farm and industrial life in Alberta will be put into pictorial form, according to the Government's plans, the idea being that moving pictures of actual conditions, scenes and working methods in this province will be prepared for exhibition at hours and abroad.

Ten or a dozen reels will be produced this year, and will be added to a number that the department already has in stock. When completed these will be used in the Government's educational work in Alberta, and some of them will later be sent over to England in connection with the immigration campaign.

MANUFACTURER MUST MAINTAIN QUALITY OF GOODS BEARING HIS NAME

His Reputation at Stake

Man who Buys Standard Brands From Local Merchants Knows That He is Getting Full Value for His Money

The public now realizes that it is the greatest beneficiary of advertising.

Advertising has done more in a decade to establish certain standards in merchandise than could have been accomplished in a hundred years by other agencies. The manufacturer who a few years ago merely made and sold clothes now makes and sells the "Black Brand" of clothes. The man who formerly just made hats now makes the "Black Hat" and it is with everything that one buys to-day. The manufacturer, by his advertising, has built up his business around a trade name and if he is to continue in business he must protect that trade name by maintaining such a high standard of quality that people when they buy his products will know just what they are getting. The worst thing that can happen to-day, does not buy merchandise blindly, with the hope that it will turn out to be worth the money. He buys standard goods that bear the trade name of the manufacturer, who is backed by the reputation not only of the merchant who sells them but the manufacturer, who makes them. This has been brought about by advertising.

No Reputation to Protect.

All this applies to the retail merchant as a class but does not apply to the mail order houses. The man or woman who buys goods from catalogue houses is not protected by the manufacturer of the goods, for the reason that most manufacturers sell goods to the mail order houses do not place their names upon the goods and therefore have no reputation to protect.

The great majority of articles listed and illustrated in the mail order catalogues are included in what is known among manufacturers as "steer clear" stuff. These articles bear the name of the mail order house which sells them instead of that of the manufacturer who makes them. It can readily be understood that the manufacturing concern which turns out goods that do not bear its name or trademark is likely to be a very unreliable institution. It is not building up any reputation on the quality of its goods, for its products have nothing to distinguish them from the products of any other concern. With no reputation to sustain and no chance of creating a general demand for its goods the only concern of a manufacturing institution of this kind is to make stuff as cheaply as possible in order to obtain the largest possible profit on its products.

Same Price World Over

These facts are clearly responsible for the steadily increasing list of the home merchants do not sell goods as cheaply as the mail order houses. They do sell the same quality of goods that the mail order houses sell at exactly the same mail order house sells it but they cannot sell the standard, guaranteed products of responsible manufacturers at the same price at which the mail order houses sell their nameless, unbranded merchandise. Standard goods bearing a registered trademark sell at the manufacturer's guarantee stands back of them when they are sold in the smallest village in the country just the same as when they are sold to the stores of the largest cities.

Seventh Fortnightly Crop Report

Issued by the Publicity Commissioner, Govt. Buildings, Edmonton, Saturday, July 29, 1922

The crop situation in Alberta has reached a condition where it is possible to make a fairly definite statement respecting the probable harvest.

Taking the province as a whole, the crop is uneven. On new breaking and on well worked summer-fallow, yields of from 25 to 40 bushels, or wheat are expected, in almost every part. On stubble plowing, both fall and spring, the yields over three quarters of the province will be light. The oat crop is a very short stand and the yields will not be as large as for several years past. A very considerable portion of the oat crop will be cut by mowers, for hay. In some districts this work has already commenced.

The area from Calgary south extends to the boundary will have the heaviest crop since 1915, although on small portions of this area, particularly on the lighter soils, there will be some small crops. Some fields of wheat in this area give promise of 40 bushels yields and 20 bushels per acre will not be uncommon. The whole south-western part of the province has been sown with seed, in addition to this a reserve of moisture was held over from last season, the fall rains being quite plentiful. The south-eastern part of the province has not been so favored, fairly good rains have fallen but the crop is somewhat spotted.

In the whole of the south, a heavy yield of rye is anticipated and cutting of this crop is now practically completed. Most of the farmers have harvested part of the rye crop for hay. This will mean that the farmers of the south should not have to import much feed for the coming season.

The whole central and northern part of the province has been short of rains throughout the season. It rains were to come at the present time, it would materially improve the later sown green feed and hay.

Edmonton, Alberta.—A car of the McMurtry farm made has been shipped to Vancouver, B.C., this being the combination of 13 months of research by General Ludlow's chemists in London, England. A variety of tests have been made in England in addition to which processes for the extracting of oil from the biomass have been studied in both France and Germany, and it is hoped that the experiments on the new carload will be successful and result in more extensive developments.

Edmonton, Alberta.—The volume of business handled by the Eggs and Poultry Marketing Service of the provincial government in Alberta has shown a hundred per cent. increase last year. More than twenty carloads of eggs have already been handled this year by the service.

Value of Irrigation

The last three years have afforded striking examples of the value of irrigation, and the amount of land under irrigation has increased yearly, culminating in the present year, when the acreage under water in the Western Section of the Bow Valley Irrigation Block will greatly exceed that in any previous year.

In driving through the country the results are at once apparent. While there are many good crops on dry land, yet they are not to be compared with those which have been irrigated properly. This is especially noticeable in the north of Strathmore, where the rainfall has been lighter than immediately surrounding Strathmore. The irrigated crops there stand out conspicuously.

With increasing use each year much is being learned as to the proper time to irrigate, and the amount of water to put on. Those who have been practicing irrigation for several years are getting better results every year.

On some farms successful irrigation is easier than on others, owing to the conformation and nature of the soil. Some who have used water this year have not been able to distribute it properly, owing to their land not being level enough. But grain will crop is patchy. The early irrigation has so far been the most successful.

We have seen through a series of dry years. It may be said we hope it is so, that the cycle is complete, and that we may from now on enjoy a series of years of normal precipitation. There is no object in trusting to chance, and those who have irrigation could be well advised to spend what time they can in getting their land into shape for next year.

Under normal conditions irrigation is more profitable for forage and vegetable crops than for grain. For irrigation takes time and money, and the yield from forage crops and truck is much higher than can be obtained from grain with irrigation.

But these are not normal times. The feed and cattle markets are still depressed, and the market for garden stuff is very limited. An increasing area is being devoted to forage and hay crops every year, and the number of acres is steadily increasing. In Alberta for a number of years to come, consequently the maximum production of grain is the object of most farmers.

Those who have not irrigable land have throughout the district in many cases got very good stands of grain by good summerfallowing and keeping down weeds. Stable sowings, which during wet years has often proved profitable, has in many cases been so much of a failure that the crop has been plowed up. To the lack of moisture in the crop, it has been added the grasshopper plague, while it has been successfully met by summerfallowing, has taken the most of the available crop, it has been impossible to poison the whole acreage. However the acreage in stubble has been much less than in former years. The crop is not out of the weeds yet. The hot weather of the past week has brought the crop ahead too rapidly, and on dry land there has not been in many cases enough moisture to fill out the heads properly. However, a rain during this week would help out wonderfully and bring the district as a whole through with an average crop.

We have in the Standard always tried to avoid what is known as "preaching" to the farmer. The farmer always has got a lot of advice from people who know much less about his business than he does himself.

Experience is the best teacher. The Alberta farmer in nine cases out of ten is producing by experience. The quantity of moisture is the only limiting factor to the productivity of the soil in this district. It is wonderful what it has done this year on a very small rainfall. The sandy loam of which much of the topsoil is composed has stood through better than has hard soils, and even land that has blown badly has come through very well, the sand having formed a blanket to protect the moisture in the soil, where with the hard soil the ground baked.

THE WHEAT BOARD

While the farmer is engaged in solving the problem of conserving moisture to the best advantage, he has also tackled with some success the problem of marketing, through representation in politics, resulting in establishment of the Wheat Board. The Board may not do all that is claimed for it, but it will open a direct channel between the producer and the consumer. It is a step in the right direction, a temporary expedient, but during the next twelve months time will be given to perfect a scheme of marketing that will avoid the evils of the past.

Grasshopper Campaign Is Success

Loss of crop from grasshoppers in Alberta this year, throughout the infested territory will be only from two to three per cent, and in the majority of cases the loss has been practically nil, according to a statement issued by H. E. Strickland, entomologist in charge of the field work for the Alberta Department of Agriculture in the grasshopper campaign. The saving of crop effected by the campaign will be many times greater than the cost of the campaign.

Mr. Strickland however, lays great stress on the fact that stubble crops offer the greatest opportunity for damage from the hoppers. He states that the "lesser migratory hopper" is the greatest menace and this hopper lays its eggs promiscuously over stubble land, and deserted farms.

He recommends against planting the crops on stubble land unless the land has been plowed to a depth of seven inches. Deep fall plowing is particularly recommended.

Mr. Strickland also points out that through failure to realize the seriousness of the situation on the part of some, sufficient roadside grasshoppers escaped to re-infest the districts concerned for next year. He therefore urges a campaign of poisoning to be carried on during August to destroy hoppers as they gather, on breeding grounds. By the end of August he states, exterminating ceases.

Trouble is also being experienced through hoppers eating blader twine. Mr. Strickland recommends that twine should be soaked in a solution of one pound of bluestone to three gallons of water. The balls of twine can either be thoroughly dried out before placing on the blader, or can be put on soaking wet, as half dried twine will cause trouble. A system of spoils could be rigged just before it reaches the knouter.

Quebec, Quebec-Quebec will be the first Canadian province to create an institute for treatment with radium. According to an announcement by Premier Taschereau. The institute will be attached to the University of Montreal and arrangements are being completed to obtain the necessary quantity of radium to permit the establishment to operate. One gram of radium will be sufficient to start with, and this will cost the province more than $100,000.

Winnipeg, Manitoba - During the first six months of the present year Manitoba has experienced a decided boom in building, and the prospects are that the construction and allied trades in this province will have a year of activity unsurpassed by any year since 1914. Activity has been most marked in Winnipeg, where permits issued for the first six months of the year exceeded $4,500,000. Calgary, Alberta - Drilling on the Thompson Oil Company's property on the land sanctuary, at Paleokaki, in southern Alberta has commenced, and it is the intention of the drillers to go to a depth of 2,500 feet.

RED CROSS HOSPITAL FOR CHILDREN

The Baby Red Cross Hospital for sick children in Calgary is at present filled to capacity, with thirty-seven patients. These little ones represent all parts of the province, two having arrived from the far west, and several have come in from the south.

Two bad cases have come from Athabasca Landing, one being a boy of fourteen who has never walked in his life, due to infantile paralysis contracted while an infant. His brother has a tubercular leg, but these boys will be able to do a great deal for them. An interesting case is that of a little girl who has never been able to walk owing to contraction of the muscles, but who can now sit alone. This is a result of a recent operation, and she is naturally very proud of the fact.

Many of the bed-patients are being in place, and in every case there is confidence here that a permanent cure will take place. Three of the patients have now home the month, and they are entirely cured in this new children's hospital there is an air of happiness and optimism everywhere, for the children are filled with hope and encouragement when they see the results of operations on their companions, many of whom are progressing quite marvelously.
